Revised Directive 4.300

Directive 4.300-Behavioral Support Requirements - Restrictive Interventions, Restraints, and Seclusion Time-Out has been revised to reflect the draft Behavior Support rule.

Changes to the directive include:

- The format of the directive was changed to more closely correspond with the format of the draft rule.
- The reactive strategy threshold was increased and changed to include reactive strategies that also meets the definition of restrictive interventions.
- The description of the Regional Behavior Support Review Committee was revised to emphasize the criteria for review is determined based on regional issues.
- The time out definition was simplified to only include seclusion time out.
