Missouri AAIDD and Disability Cocoon Technology Festival

Missouri AAIDD and Disability Cocoon are teaming up to bring a new way of learning the latest and greatest in disability technology. The inaugural, one-day disability technology festival will be held on March 14, 2019, in Saint Louis at Innovation Hall.

This event will be organized into learning pods called "learning cocoons". Attendees will spend the day moving from cocoon to cocoon learning new tech solutions in specific areas of a person's life: LIVE, WORK, LEARN, and PLAY. In each cocoon, attendees will learn new tech solutions tied to that specific aspect of a person's life.

This event is designed specifically for:

- Provider agency employees
- Support Coordinators
- Family members/Guardians
- Other disability professionals
- Self-Advocates
- Anyone interested in disability services and technology
