Missouri Labor Market Summaries

The Missouri Economic Research and Information Center (MERIC) publishes a quarterly report of statewide and regional analysis of current job demands, top 10 largest employers, occupations and salary ranges. Labor market data provided by MERIC can be valuable with effective business engagement strategies to increase the hiring of individuals supported through the Division of Developmental Disabilities, as well as serve as a useful tool in developing strategies for recruiting and retaining direct support professionals. The current report can be viewed at MERIC. There is also a subscription service available for accessing this quarterly report.
