Employer Engagement & Job Development During Challenging Times

Tuesday, June 30, 2020 - 2:00 to 3:00 PM

During challenging times, it is more important than ever to maintain relationships with employers and continue following best practices. This interactive session will highlight strategies for employer engagement and job development during the pandemic and beyond. Discussion will include strategies for enhancing job development, building and maintaining relationships with employers who are not currently hiring, and understanding the current labor market. The session will allow for group discussion and the opportunity to engage with participants across the state.
