Words Matter: Advancing Language that Reframes Aging

October 11, 2:00 - 3:00

Communication is a key part of Information and Referral (I&R). I&R professionals communicate with individuals, families, and community members every day. Join this webinar to learn about Reframing Aging and communication practices that are advancing age-inclusive language. Reframing aging promotes aging as a part of the human experience that engages all of us.

Presenters:

- Patricia D'Antonio, Vice President, Policy and Professional Affairs, The Gerontological Society of America; Executive Director, National Center to Reframe Aging
- Hannah Albers, Program Director, National Center to Reframe Aging, The Gerontological Society of America

Pre-registration is required for this webinar and space is limited.
