FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

1. NIH Launches Community-Led Research Program to Advance Health Equity – The National Institutes of Health (NIH) is funding a first-of-its-kind community-led research program to study ways to address the underlying structural factors within communities that affect health, such as access to safe spaces, healthy food, employment opportunities, transportation, and quality health care. Through the NIH Common Fund Community Partnerships to Advance Science for Society (ComPASS) program, NIH made 26 awards to community organizations and a coordinating center, totaling approximately $171 million over five years, pending the availability of funds. Learn More
2. NIH Established Maternal Health Research Centers of Excellence – The National Institutes of Health (NIH) awarded $24 million in first-year funding to establish Maternal Health Research Centers of Excellence as part of NIH's Implementing a Maternal Health and Pregnant Outcomes Vision for Everyone (IMPROVE) initiative. These maternal health research centers are designed to "...develop and evaluate innovative approaches to reduce pregnancy-related complications and deaths and promote maternal health equity." Depending on the availability of funds, these grants are expected to last seven years, with an estimated total of $168 million. NIH's press release announcing the Maternal Health Research Centers of Excellence can be found here.

3. NIDA Supports Research on Novel Approaches for Smoking Cessation – The purpose of this Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) is to provide support for research to facilitate well planned clinical trials aimed at advancing the science of tobacco cessation among adolescents. Specifically, the FOA invites applications for Planning Grants (R34) to inform the planning, design, and initial development of adolescent tobacco cessation behavioral intervention studies, with an emphasis on the critical developmental risk period ranging from mid- to late adolescence (i.e., approximately 14-20 years old). Applications should propose clinical trial planning activities that are scientifically necessary to guide the design and conduct of a future clinical trial evaluating a tobacco cessation behavioral intervention for adolescents. Planning activities could include, but are not limited to, feasibility and pilot studies to assess intervention viability and/or trial design, and testing of recruitment, retention, and adherence strategies to increase participant engagement and scientific rigor. Application Due Date: Sunday, October 15, 2023. Learn More
