MOADD ECHO (Missouri Alliance for Dual Diagnosis) is a collaborative effort between the Missouri Department of Mental Health, leading content experts, and providers interested in developing expertise in supporting children with dual developmental/intellectual and behavioral health diagnoses. Through this program, Missouri providers gain increased access to cross-system support, enabling them to provide comprehensive care for individuals with dual diagnoses.

MOADD ECHO aims to enhance communication and collaboration among state agencies serving children with dual diagnoses, identify care gaps, and develop long-term solutions.
